

Unique Care For Veterans

America's Veterans and their loved ones have unique needs.

Veterans frequently carry experiences from their military service that may present unique challenges at the end-of-life. These needs are influenced by:

- Combat or non-combat experience.
- The war in which they served.
- Their branch of service and rank.
- If they were a Prisoner of War (POW).

Serenity Hospice and Home is committed to meeting the special needs of Veterans at the end of life and providing expert professional hospice care to every terminally ill Veteran.

We understand that a Veteran's view of their service, whether positive or negative, greatly impacts how they cope with their condition, especially if it is directly related to their service.

Hospice is compassionate and dignified care at the end-of-life.

Our services involve a team-oriented approach of expert medical care, pain management, and emotional and spiritual support tailored to the patient's wishes. Emotional and spiritual support is also extended to family and loved ones.

Generally, this care is provided in the patient's home or wherever they reside. Medicare, Medicaid, and private health insurance cover hospice care for patients who have a terminal diagnosis and a life expectancy of less than six months.
